Claims 34-39 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected Group II, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 9.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Headley or Bushue et al or Manchester et al.

Claims 4,8,23 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Manchester et al.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Art Unit: 2836

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 2,3,5-7,9-14,49-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bushue et al.

Bushue teaches an access device having an input port for connecting to an upstream section of a coaxial distribution cable and an output port for connecting to a downstream section of a coaxial distribution cable, and provides isolation of an RF communication signal from an AC power signal. The Bushue device differs from the claims by not using wave guide techniques, not having a particular insertion loss, not having safety caps, and by not using other design practices mentioned in the dependent claims.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the teachings of Bushue to meet the claims because the limitations of the dependent claims are unremarkable conventional design practices that well known to be used with the device described by independent claim 1.

Art Unit: 2836

Claims 15-22,24-33 and 52-54 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 40-47 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The "delivery of digital representations of received RF signals" in combination with AC line power separation and surge/overvoltage protection of a coaxial cable is not taught or fairly suggested by the prior art of record.
